etc.Birmingham, May 19.—The Post is informed by military authorities in Odessa that there is a great commotion at Russian headquarters over the discovery that va-senting fifty million rounds, have either completely disappeared or are so worthless they are practically unavailable for use.

PROMINENT MEN KIDNAPPED.

Believed That Moroccan Government Is Concerned.Tangiers, Morocco, May 19.—Ion Per-dicaris and Coroky Marley have been kidnapped at their home near Tangiers by a band of mountaineers. Perdicaris is the richest and most influential man in Tan-giers and is an American citizen. His father was at one time American consul-general in Athens. Perdicaris was most popular with the Tangier mass and this possibly roused the jealousy of government officials who may have facilitated the kidnapping.Marley is an English friend who has been associated with Perdicaris in several enterprises.

a great deal during the past few months by the thefts of various freight, including after their arrival at this point. An in-employees of the railroad, were arraigned

Did Not Injure Third Horse or Nine Other Cows, Nor Fire the Barns.Rutland, May 19.—One of the most severe electric storms in many years visited this city at about 1 o'clock this morning. A bolt performed a curious feat at the farm of E. M. Pennock, north of the city. It entered his horse barn, where the horses were standing in a row, killed two of them and then left the building, jumping 50 feet to a cowbarn, and there killing a cow which was standing among the others.
The others were not harmed. Neither building caught fire or was damaged in any way.

F. W. JACKSON AN OFFICER

Attendance at Convention in Bellows Falls is the Largest in Years.Bellows Falls, May 19.—The 58th annual session of the grand lodge of Vermont Odd Fellows opened in Odd Fellows hall yesterday with Grand Master Samuel A. Reed presiding. About 300 delegates were present making the largest annual gathering for many years. Reports of the different grand officers were read, showing a large gain in members and prosperity.
There are 6,233 Odd Fellows in the state with a gain 329 members. During the past year Bellows Falls lodge has received 35 new members, making the largest gain for the year of any lodge. The report of the trustees of the Gill Odd Fellows Home at Ludlow showed a prosperous year.The grand lodge degree was conferred upon 70 candidates during the morning session.Past Grand Master G. S. Pinkerton of Worcester, Mass., made the formal address of the session.The grand lodge officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: E. B.
Morton, St. Albans, grand master; O. E.
Chilson, Burlington, deputy grand master; H. E. Parker, Bradford, grand secretary; F. A. Robbins, Newport, grand warden; L. J. Retting, Brattleboro, grand chaplain; representatives to sovereign grand lodge, S. A. Reed of Windsor, Walter L.
Hayes of Chester, Calvin Endress of Bennington, grand conductor; H. H.
Slack of Northfield, grand guard; F.
W. Jackson of Barre, grand herald.It was voted to hold the next annual session at Burlington in May, 1905. In this connection ex-Governor Woodbury of Burlington stated to the grand lodge that he would erect a building in that city for the purpose of holding the annual Odd Fellows convention, provided the grand lodge would agree to hold the conventions there two-thirds of the time. A resolution of thanks was passed and a committee was appointed to consider Governor Woodbury's offer.The 10th annual banquet of the Past Grand Masters and Past Grand Patriarchs association was held in Union hall last evening. Covers were laid for 300. An orchestra furnished music during the evening and the occasion was an enjoyable one, ending in the Grand Lodge session.
President C. A. Perry presided. Addresses were made by Rev. B. W. Atwell of Shelburne, who spoke on the "Character of Odd Fellowship," and Col. H. E. Parker of Bradford, who gave an interesting address on the "Growth of Odd Fellowship in Vermont."In closing Mr. Parker said, "The Gill Home at Ludlow is the crowning jewel in this rejolting of attainments. That institution has only to be visited to be appreciated by members of the order and those not affiliated with us. In this beneficence the Odd Fellows of Vermont set the pace for others to follow. May a more progressive record be ours, if possible, when another 21 years shall have been reviewed at the end of a generation to come."

Bennett-Moulton Co.

Much anticipation is already shown over the visit of the Bennett-Moulton Co. to the Opera House next week. The fact that such plays as Shipwrecked, Outcast of Society, Belle of Virginia, Working Girl and a Daughter of the People are to be presented at popular prices is an announcement that adds more than ordinary importance to all engagements of this kind. No similar attraction has ever attempted a repertoire as pretentious as this or one that involves so great a care in the general staging. The management present each production completely and each one receives the same attention. Monday evening ladies fifteen cent tickets will be in vogue. These can be bought at the advance sale.War, War, Our Watchword is Peace Not War.The Ladies Aid of the Congregational church plan to hold a concert in the church the last week in May, which will be especially appropriate at that time. This concert will consist of the songs of the Civil War, the men who wrote them and the boys who sang them. There will be a chorus, quartette and reader. Renew your patriotism on the approach of Memorial day by listening to these dear old songs, "Tenting Tonight," "Just Before the Battle Mother," "Star Spangled Ban-best talent in the city. Date will be an-

SENTENCE HOLDS.

George Raymo Must Go to House of Correction.Montpelier, May 19.—An opinion was handed down yesterday afternoon in supreme court in the Orleans county case of State vs. George Raymo. The respondent was brought here from Orleans county jail. He was convicted of an assault with intent to kill at the last September term of Orleans county court and sentenced to not less than two and not more than two years and six months to the house of correction at Rutland. The case was argued at the last January term of supreme court and came up on the respondent's exceptions to the exclusion of certain evidence as to the respondent's declarations to his neighbors previous to the assault in question, and on exceptions to the charge of the court. The opinion rendered by Judge Tyler gave judgment that there was no error in the proceedings of the court below; that the respondent takes nothing by his exceptions and that execution of the sentence was ordered.Present prospects are that the work of the term will not be completed this week, although there will probably be not enough business to occupy the time of the court more than two or three days next week.Judge Munson has been absent for two days because of the death and funeral of the librarian at Manchester, and Judge Stafford was called to his home at St.
Johnsbury today by a serious injury to his young son, who sustained a broken jaw while playing base ball.

HIS MEMORY WAS POOR

Woman Arrested For Intoxication, Said She Was Guilty, Takes Ten Days in County Jail.Two prisoners faced Judge Fay last night on the charge of intoxication, one of whom was a woman, the first arrested for that offense since the license law went into effect and one of the few that have ever been arraigned for that. She was Jennie Guyer of West Berlin. The man was Bas-son Ellis of Williamstown, who claimed that he had been robbed of $50 at the Central Vermont station. On investigation it was found that Ellis' memory had played him false, and the money was at home safe from harm.Both were arrested by officer Hamel. An electric car was responsible for the woman's presence in Barre. She said that she realized what she was doing when she boarded the car at Montpelier but when she reached North Barre her mind became a blank. She spent Tuesday night in town and was arrested yesterday afternoon a short time after she had made the announcement to some women on the street that she was going to the barber shop to get a hair cut. Officer Hamel cheated the barber.In city court last evening she promptly pleaded guilty. None of her West Berlin friends would guarantee her fine and costs, those in this city were equally backward and so she went to Montpelier last night. Being unable to raise the money there she said to the officer, "There are plenty of people to get you into trouble but none to help you out," and she went to the county jail for ten days.The Williamstown man who claimed that he had been robbed of $50 could remember but little else. He came into town over the Central Vermont R. R., and was in such a condition that he was unable to leave the station. He pleaded guilty to being found intoxicated, and the amount of his fine and costs, $15.24, was raised last night, and he was released.Grand Juror Carver prosecuted both cases.
